

FRANKLIN TEMPLETON INVESTMENTS

“We invest in countries that benefit from strong currencies, solid economic growth and even the potential for falling rates, which can boost the value of existing bonds. We focus on long-term fundamentals and don’t get sidetracked by market fluctuations.”

–Dr. Michael Hasenstab
Chief Investment Officer,

KEY FEATURES OF THE FUND

- Provides exposure to local and sovereign government bonds of developed and emerging market countries, and foreign currencies.
- The experienced, multinational research team performs fundamentals-based macroeconomic research that underlies our investment theses. This perspective is informed by frequent country visits and the insights of a research team from across the U.S., UK, Korea, Brazil, the United Arab Emirates, China and India.
- The investment objective of the Fund is to maximise total investment return consisting of a combination of interest income, capital appreciation and currency gains by investing in fixed income securities worldwide.

WHY CONSIDER THIS FUND

- The flexibility of the Fund allows portfolio managers to take advantage of opportunities around the globe that offers the highest expected risk-adjusted returns.
- There are three sources of potential returns that can each be evaluated and capitalised on independently: interest rate, currency and sovereign credit. The managers isolate the precise risk exposures held by the Fund, so that only those with the most attractive valuations remain.
- Access to the expertise of global specialist investment teams covering every major sector of the global fixed income security and debt obligation market.
